

Pronouns and Antecedents

A pronoun takes the place of a noun or nouns. An antecedent, or referent, is the noun or nouns to which the pronoun refers. A pronoun and its antecedent must agree in number and gender.

Before you use a pronoun, ask yourself whether the antecedent is singular or plural. If the antecedent is singular, decide whether it is masculine, feminine, or neuter. Then choose a pronoun that agrees. In the following sentences, the antecedents are underlined once; the pronouns are underlined twice.

The King didn't like the soup, so he decided to cook for himself.

The Princess and the peasant told the King that they wanted to get married.

Directions Write the letter of the pronoun next to the noun or noun phrase that could be its antecedent.
